The verb LOOK refers to a much more active sense in which the subject uses the eyes, moves them, turns the head, and generally participates more in the action. 比较动词 SEE 和 LOOK。LOOK 用来指一种更主动的意识,在这个过程中行为主体使用眼睛、转动双眼、扭转头部并参与更多的行为: I looked at the people rushing by (= I moved my eyes, perhaps even turning my head to observe them). 我注视着来往穿梭的人们(=我转动双眼,甚至转动头部来注视他们)。The verb SEE is much less active and implies less participation by the subject; with this verb, the image of the object simply strikes the subject's eyes, and the subject does much less. 动词 SEE 用来指行为主体不是很主动而且很少参与行动;使用这个词表明物体的形象只是映

S

入了他的眼帘，而他的主动行为很少：I saw her standing there (= The image of her standing there simply struck my eyes; I had very little to do with the activity). 我看见她站在那儿(=她站在那里这一形象只是映入我的眼里；我几乎没有做任何看的动作)。Whenever a meaning of a verb implies activity or participation, there is a good chance the PROGRESSIVE aspect ([be + ~-ing]) may be used. 当动词含有行为主体的行动过程或参与行动的意思时，可以使用进行时：I was looking at the people rushing by. 我正注视着来往穿梭的人群。I have been seeing her (= dating) for two years. 我和她谈恋爱已有两年了。But when the action of a verb does not imply continuing activity or participation by the subject, the progressive aspect is not used, which is why SEE so often does not allow the progressive aspect. 但是当动词没有暗示行为主体持续的动作或参与行动时，就不能使用进行时态，这就是为什么动词 SEE 不常用于进行时的原因：I saw her standing there (NOT 不用：I was seeing her...). 我看见她正站在那儿。

STILL 用于主语和动词之间,或助动词和主要动词之间。A speaker uses ALREADY when he or she suggests that the event has happened sooner than expected. 说话人用 ALREADY 暗示事件的发生要比预计的快: When will you get your visas? —Oh, didn't you know, we have already received them; they came yesterday. 你们什么时候能拿到签证? —噢,你不知道吗? 我们已经拿到了,是昨天来的。This word is often used in the present perfect tense. ALREADY 常用于现在完成时。YET is often used with a negative word or in questions, and appears when the speaker suggests that the event is expected to happen or occur. YET 常与否定词连用,或用于疑问句,表示说话人暗示期望某事件发生或出现: Have you received your visas from the embassy yet? We haven't received our visas yet. 你们从大使馆拿到签证了吗? 我们还没有拿到签证。EVER is used in questions and in the present perfect tense with the meaning "at any time in the past"; it does not suggest that the speaker is expecting anything and is more neutral and open than the others. EVER 用于疑问句及现在完成时,带有表示"过去的任何时间"之意,EVER 不暗示说话人期望任何事情,它比其他 3 个词更中性,更具开放性: Have you ever traveled to Egypt? 你去埃及旅行过吗?
