Differences between British and American English: time
time 在英国英语和美国英语中的区别

British speakers ask what time it is by asking 'Have you got the time?' or 'What time do you make it?' American speakers ask 'Do you have the time?' or 'What time do you have?' In the UK, if children can read a clock face you say that they can tell the time. In the US, you say that they can tell time. In British English, you say the time is 'ten to three' or 'ten past three'. American speakers say 'ten of three' or 'ten after three'. 英国人问时间时说: Have you got the time? 或 What time do you make it?;而美国人则说: Do you have the time? 或 What time do you have? 在英国,如果小孩能看懂钟表上的时间,人们说他们能 tell the time; 美国人用的则是 tell time。在英国,人们说 ten to three(3 点差 10 分) 或 ten past three(3 点过 10 分);而美国人则说 ten of three 或 ten after three。
